

Clifton, Mass.,

My dear Mr. Fougée:

The "clippings" have been received together with your interesting letter. I was much amused over your idea of an insulated seclusion as befitting a Baptist college, with the draw-bridge attachment leading to the Seminary. I am sure that Education will eventually mean more than propaganda, even to the most belated minds. As it is actually conducted, at the present ⁽²⁾ time, our Senate Meter is not a wet-nurse. I am sure that all true Alumni prefer that it be so. It is a part of the work of education to lead and develop public sentiment. We are trying to do our part of this, and we feel that in some real and fruitful sense the future is ours.

With esteem, I am

Sincerely yours,
David J. Hill

Hon. Albion W. Tourgee,
