Judge A. W. Sawyer
Dear Sir:

New York, Sept. 7, 1893.

I have made an arrangement with the Rose Publishing Co of Toronto to handle "Out of the Sunset Sea" for the Canadian market and it will be sold there at 1.50 retail list on supplying them copies from here until such time as it may seem best to make a duplicate set of plates for them.

I have also sent bound copies to Sampson Low & Co of London and they will copyright it there in the name of Annie Sawyer and place copies on sale Sept. 18th on which day they will be issued in this country. Copies for western points will be shipped in time to reach their destination not earlier than the 18th. I will make the best arrangement possible with an English house and would like any suggestion you may have as to the proper parties. What house or houses now publish your books in England? Copies have already been mailed to London.

Yours truly,
Merrill & Baker
