Judge Albert W. Tanager
Dear Sir:

New York, Sept. 8, 1893

Enclosed find proof of a couple of pages of "An Outing with the Queen of Hearts." We are having another sample set using the same type but also a very thin lead and it will reduce it to about 180 words to the page.

Is there any way of shortening up this head line or dividing it so as to run across both pages then we could use some attractive black type something like Putnam's use in their Kickerbocker Nuggits.

We are afraid the page will not look well, if a larger type is used nor should this be leaded out very much at the same time the book should make at least 128 pages including title & contents.

Any suggestions will be much appreciated. Sunset Sea is bound and we will send you some soon as one slight change is made.

Truly
