Albion W. Young:-

My dear Friend:-

Your letter of the 10th inst at hand and contents noted. I was afraid the proprietors of "The Weekly Inter Ocean" had shut off your writings. I had been expecting it for some time; for I was aware that they carried rather too much light with them for this hour. but God is not dead yet. He will see that the profane light gets out in the world. "Youth Crushed to earth shall rise again." Let us do our duty in this world; for then the Spirit of God and of glory shall rest upon us. All lovers of God, youth, and Justice has met with many a rebuff since the war of the Rebellion, and the hour in which the faithful are to see their labors rewarded comes never every day, and we cannot afford to falter now. I have just written the Publisher of "The Inter Ocean" entreating them to again give your estates a place in the columns of the Inter Ocean; but I cannot tell what effect it will have. Should you wish to write a short, pointed letter at any time for the columns of Youth Crushed we will give it due consideration. Yours in the faith and kingdom of Christ.
