

THE WRITER: A MONTHLY MAGAZINE FOR LITERARY WORKERS.

282 WASHINGTON STREET, Rooms 9 and 10 (P. O. Box 1905).

BOSTON, October 30, 1893.

Judge A. W. Tourgee,

Mayville, N. Y.

Dear Sir:-

Your postal card of October 28 is at hand. Would you like to have us send you all reviews of your books gathered by our Readers, with the understanding that you shall return all duplicates of reviews received from Romeike's Agency, and pay us five cents each for those of them which he fails to send you? We should like to make the trial to show you what our service is.

Yours very truly,

The Authors' Clipping Bureau,

per Jt.

(Dictated)
(8888)