Dear Mrs Lougee

I want to tell you that I have just read the Crusader & it has very much increased the little spark of hope that was kindled by a letter from the dear good Mrs Thurland (not long ago) speaking of the prevailing wickedness. She says we must not be discouraged or permit our faith to fail in God or in humanity but toil on as long as he gives us strength. I told her I would try to do as she said. But when the Inter-sea went over to the Enemy I felt as if there was nothing left for me but to suffer the punishment due to our National sins. I hope to help a little with subscription at present it's only the will for the way. Hope to see the Pote & hear you are all well. Yours in sympathy for the suffering C. K. Knute

I made to the Inter-sea - soon after I received your June at B. I have only been here a short time
