My dear Judge—

Your personal letter came duly to hand and contents read with much interest.

I have written many letters since receiving it— with the hope of interesting those having means, and to be mostly benefited by the success of the enterprise!

I hope to send some encouragement soon.

I should like to run across some of those Northern people of means with the Southern fever. to sell this farm to— real good farm. I work all day & write until after mid night— Can't hold out at that rate
Yours for success— J. T. Robinson
