

7697

The Inter Ocean.

Chicago May 10, 1894.

Mrs. A. W. Tourgee,

Mayville, N. Y.

Dear Mrs. Tourgee:--

In the leaded minion which we use the the Bystander letters there are about 1400 letters in a column. You can see by the make up of the paper that it will be of convenience to us to have the letters not run over two columns.

I will say to you privately that Mr. Nixon was very much pleased when he received the Judge's dispatch of congratulation the other morning. I think you and the Judge will now understand some references in my letters written within the last year. Since I wrote my last letter about the Bystander notes this whole matter was in uncertainty, and I wrote with that uncertainty in mind. I hope now that all of the slight misunderstandings between Mr. Nixon and the Judge will be cleared up.

Very respectfully,

Wm. H. Busbey.

Managing Editor.