Mayville - N. Y.

Dear Sir - Your reply to a physician in this day later than is good. This additional thought often occurs to me. If wage earners would only save a part of their earnings so they might instead of spending them at the whiskey and gin shops which most of them do the larger portion of them could own their houses and before middle life is reached many of them would be employers.
To compare working people of the North with the slaves of Antebellum days shows a mind full of curious thoughts and having little knowledge of that powerful institution. I regret your refusal to run for Congress. Sincerely, Jos. I. Irwin
