

THE Advance thinks our county jail "good enough," and intimates that the grand juries which have for many years, reported to the contrary, have been lying. The prison commission which very recently investigated the subject, reported that it was entirely unfit for the purpose for which it is used, and there is no doubt among intelligent people, who know the facts, that this is true. Were the subject of the moving of the county seat settled, no one would question the need of a new jail at once, and it would be built, the opinion of our contemporary notwithstanding.

Dear Sir

I am most heartily in favor of the building of a new jail. There is no doubt that our present substitute for a jail is unworthy the great County of Chautauque and a disgrace to our civilization.

I hope we may be able to hear you in Sherman upon this subject at an early day.

Yours sincerely
