Dear Sir

Your kind favor came duly to hand - I regret very much to learn of your condition of health, on your own account and that of your family - You had made some mention of your condition in a former letter, but I hoped for the best, and that you would again become all right, suppressly so, at last, to enable you to continue the labor you had placed upon your shoulders - and on which you have so much at heart -

Again, I regret so much, we cannot have the National Citizen, a real want - an absolute necessity, on the part,

We work for right, justice and humanity, to that people among us, our ancestors, whose Sires Father created, in his Widom, with black skins - As I look at it, it seems to be a great misfortune that that paper can not be established - While an acceptor of the things we must accept, it seems quite difficult to accept that - But it may be there is some way prepare it - But again, I trust in some way it will yet come to be -

Could I give you of my good health, or gather to myself an additional likeness your own, I should feel that my greatest cause for rejoicing - With the hope that the agitation being caused by the bills may awaken a number of the capable men of the land and induce them to take up the grave question. I am Yours Very Respectfully
