Mayville On Chautauqua, N.Y.

Dear Friend:- "You will receive from the Cleveland Printing and Publishing Co. a copy of the history of the Cleveland Soldiers' Monument. by H. J. Gleason. I hope some part of it will be of interest to you.

Mr. Day of the above company would like to publish your new history of the 105th Ohio Regt. and has asked me to recommend his Company; this I am justified in doing as you will probably see after examining our book.

I have read the parts already published in the Cosmopolitan and it promises well; it is not only to be a history of the regiment, but of the whole war in general, and that part, in which your command participated, in particular. You could not have selected a better man to illustrate it, although a little too modern, at times in his detail.

I told Mr. Day that you had probably selected your publisher, but it will do no harm for me to say that he is a reliable business man, and will do all that appears to.

With all my heart I wish you a happy New Year and a prosperous one in all your undertakings. My wife always authorizes me to unite with mine her best regards which are extended to your family.

Very truly.

Levi T. Scofield.
