Dear Sir:-

I have been a reader of your paper ever since it was organized. I was very much interested in the "Siva" letters and have preserved several copies of the Book containing the first series. I write now to ascertain if there is not some way that I can secure the last series which were written during the present term of President Cleveland. If they have never been printed in book form, is there any way in which I can induce the management to have all the last series of letters cut out and sent me, so that I may arrange them in a scrap book form? These letters are the most vigorous, the most telling, and withal the most able which have appeared in the press since the days of Junius. They certainly deserve to be preserved in book form and if you have issued them or intending to issue them in book form, I will subscribe for five copies. Please let me know if I can be accommodated in any way.

Respectfully yours,

John E Burton
