a cotton-field". I submit the perseverance of a republican politician in a democratic state which outweighs the first in importance to a steam pressed bale to a lightly filled bag the same Very likely I assure you of two facts, first that my story is not of a "Blood and Thunder" style treating of the two faced and treacherous lines of which mankind is abundantly possessed. And lastly that I am willing to work for success I have not undertaken literary work with an excited nervousness to set the world on fire so that the flame will never
