What shall I do in this case? Will you own paper clear me through the Inter Ocean and Tribune? I don't know what your silence means but keep quiet - Guess not. Do they think I am fishing to blame the Inter Ocean or we entirely free! Do they think I have asked their past advice? Do they think I am really rather crazed & had better be allowed time to come round. or is it policy - to steer clear of the brawl & the friction of all that miserable personal attack -
Or are they ill, or too dreadfully busy - or perplexed as to what is it?

Sat. Dear Sam: Yesterday I received your letter of the 9th inst. and was glad to learn that you were well. I have not written to you for some time, because I supposed you were busy, and I regard your time as too valuable to be wasted in writing letters to me. I see our papers are publishing your letters to the Inter Ocean, and I suppose you are receiving many congratulations upon the able manner in which you have conducted the controversy. I have not seen any of the letters, but I have no doubt they are very able. I see the Tribune is publishing letters from Mr. Ingersoll, and I suppose you will have to reply to them. Whatever it is it is all a mistake somehow, I feel sure & so in good faith I write again I suppose you think me a poor silly simpleton & write off expecting you to come off to England like a lamb all at a pinch as my last letter seemed to urge - though believing me should have liked to the occasion had you ventured - But you didn't, so let that be. Meantime a new & great trial has befallen me. You know what Duane suffered & endured in getting Miss Nelli's campaign afloat & the little society for Recognition of Brotherhood started - It has got into the hands of some ministerial gentlemen who think they know all about it Duane threw over our original platform & gone off on fresh lines - & rather than be controlled or yield to those who founded the thing we have had to let them have their own way & we come out of it and once more - now when I am feeling something of the tiredness of middle age & Duane for a third time to start afresh. Happily I had secured to myself the right to republish (resume) anti-Caste at any time I might see fit - so I revert to my old plan - taking up - a sort of monthly summary of the situation so far as I am able & working along on the old plan - collecting funds for publishing & getting people to read & give away the copies. Meetings I can get up far better than more show parties as Mr Richings has found out. One does not work patiently for 16 years without ones name becoming some-thing of a power - & there are hundreds of centres where I can write to one or two people & set them in motion. Mr Richings is doing a very useful work for the cause. Our English are so densely ignorant of the real condition of these people - (as alas are most American white people also) that his photographs are a sort of revelation

& thoughtful people are deeply impressed. Our Miss Wells' campaign work & people to the evidence of a terrible condition of affairs & the awakened public has opened the way for a reception of such genuine information such as Mr R shows with his photo lantern slides. They are no fancy sketches - their power is in their plain light of day evidence. When he was here last for a few days (in Feb) I told him I thought he ought on getting back to America to go straight to you & instead of trying to start some new movement try to understand the one already so powerful for good. He is not a man of much education, or general information culture or manners - & I felt he needed to he made to feel that there are greater than he already doing heroic service in the cause - he talked of running a paper. I don't know - but it may be his practical talents might be helpful to you? - The way his energy is considerable & his heart is in the cause & he is in touch with the Coloured people so I feel anxious to get him onto the best & most effective lines -

As for me you will receive soon (probably in a few days) a new copy of Anti-Caste. I think I can run it while still caring for the poor fellow old Uncle - I must do the best I can - In asking about how to keep in touch with you & your work - I want solid advice. My time is limited I cannot read much -
