My dear, dear Jennie Imyee! I just-rec'd your precious letter & Mr. M. & thank you much for the same, & the time the Byston-ites" disappeared per the Inter-Ocean. I wondered if you had just-on a rampage. But matters pen-day to day. Thinking every day that I would write you. But-thought-that you would be overwhelmed with letters-from-others that-I would wait to your business; but at last-concluded that-I would write. on a just-as I was perceiving to write the Bass Comb, and will just-it right-in here that it is from you & that we are more than pleased with it; I am only sorry at one thing that I have been utterly ignorant of it; I see in the papers that you have been very sick. When was that? I was at Washington when it was you left the Inter-Ocean. Can it be possible that it was owing to the last number & I hadn't heard of it, so as to have sent you a word of sympathy. I was so I hope we've you. Dec 9 December a year ago when the Jeffs & I have been fighting it, or it has been fighting me ever since. & although I have heroically fought it; I guess it is going to

to the Doctor. My friends get into my nerves, & I am so nervous to day that I am ashamed I feel. I am going to have nervous prostration. I have written as much as I can letters since my dear husband died. & have to write daily, notwithstanding my nervousness. I find writing but my appetite, although I take but a exercise & have been & am doing every thing possibly to give me back my original health - but I trust - I can but - I shall be compelled to succumb to that - and disease seems

I have been staying with my sister, Mrs. Johnson.
His sister. Excuse me for writing this; We always have been great-aunties & one other Mrs. Troyer & therefore I mention it only give a line. We have just put down & now a pleasing victory.
For the Heller in Chicago Yours sincerely friend
H Knapp
