Dear Mr Fonsgée

Certainly we will keep your ad & Henry Churton Jr., and will look with interest for his contributions, hoping he may have as effective an authorship as his father.

Yesterday I sent an ad. of "Eastman" and the "Story of an Epoch", 4 vol. 4 t. to the Basis: also suggested that after that had run out they might think it worth while to advertise the books on their own account me supplying their orders at 50% in consideration of their advertising & pushing them. Sometimes this is a profitable thing for papers going to a special clientage, for they can use "space" cheaply to themselves, and turn an honest penny on the sales.

The paper is most interesting: but if the Judge means to write pretty much the whole of it himself once a week, he will dig himself into a hole. Don't let him!

Faithfully Yours,

R. Kennard
