St Paul 5/18. 1895.

Dear Judge

Without submitting my manuscript I wrote to the Cosmopolitan & knew if they would publish my article illustrated with pictures of

Genl Palmer
" Bennet
" Reynolds
Col. Berry } Bisque Campaign.
" Dodge }

provided it attained unto their literary standard and I received the enclosed reply.

Unless one has a national reputation it is useless to try and write for the Magazines. It reminds me of the old mormons advice to her sons not to go near the water till they knew how to swim — So the Magazines will not publish for any one unless they have a world-wide reputation and they exclude all others, so that the opportunity for becoming known to the public is reduced to a minimum. However, I should not burden you with this matter.

Hoping that you are well and that many years of usefulness are before you

I am very truly
