My Dear Mr Bergeman!

I have just been over your first sch of Proofs. On the main, your compositors have done exceedingly well I wish to call attention to a few things, that may cause trouble in the future.

1— The tendency to space out unnecessarily. It is this which gives the ordinary country newspaper, its loose and scattered appearance, as if the words had been shot upon the page with a smooth bore gun. This makes a bad looking page, especially when the type is small as ours is

and would give the Union
a crucified appearance
which we should especially avoid as it has been hitherto especially well done.

2 – I have tried to regulate capitalization on principle; as for instance, making "Republicans" and "Democrats" caps
and also "Republican party"
and "democratic party"
not caps — as it ought to be. But I will give it up as too troublesome a system to be enforced and make this rule. "Republican"
"Democrat," president, &c all ways known case. If it becomes necessary to change to your permission, I will do it, ~~in~~ in proof; but it is not likely. So with presidents' notices &c.

3 — All extracts must be each solid ~~and~~ if more than ~~five~~ three or five lines. They should also be quoted.

4 — Names of newspapers must be in ~~the~~ Italics. The Daily in small caps.

5.- Follow the punctuation & make one routine how many makes it runs over.

There things would better be understood at the start as we can save much bother by full understanding.

I will break the long editorials by putting in more white than is plain rule — I guess so.

The main heading letter I would like to have a =

Put this title in the middle — that is, over both col= umns.

Perhaps you would better set the quotation from Lincoln, ~~either~~ either in small caps across the whole page ~~and~~ or in some light line caps — running the name and date in so as to make a somewhat striking little thing.

~~Don't do so you~~

Follow this with one= column article heading at top of right hand page, "A New Hetero= doxy." — And this in

but the same as in the last observation.

The first page you may see is as follows.

The Bar:

a Monthly Magazine of Citizenship.

Vol. I February 1896.

Public sentiment is everything. With public sentiment nothing can fail; without it nothing can succeed. Consequently, he who moulds public sentiment, goes deeper than he who enacts statutes or pronounces decisions. He makes statutes and decisions possible or impossible to be executed.

Abraham Lincoln, Peoria February 12th 1809.

"Credit and Currency"

same way by "The Presidential Ticket."

Fill in whatever space there may be with smaller matter with black-face side titles.
