The Chicago Tribune.
EDITORIAL DEPARTMENT

Chicago, Jan 21st 1896

Mr A. W. Dourgie.

Dear Sir.

I submitted your letter to the Managing Editor who requests me to say in reply that he has more matter now contracted for than space wherein to insert it.

I am still connected with Tribune work, but not so actively as formerly.

Advising you as much me to draw up a letter.

I am about going South for perhaps three months.

Yours Truly.

Jos. Medill.
