RICHARD HODGSON, LL. D.,
SECRETARY AND TREASURER,
5 BOYLSTON PLACE.

Boston, Mass., Feb. 6, 1896.

Albion W. Tourgee, Esq.,

Daer Sir:--

My attention has been drawn to a reprint from your paper in the Metaphysical Magazine, entitled a "Mysterious Warning."

A boy received the impression of his cousin Amelia's death before the news arrived. The news was brought by another cousin named Herbert. Can you kindly give me the name and address of the gentleman who had this experience when a boy?

I need hardly say that his name will be kept strictly private should he so desire.

You will understand the object of my inquiry from the inclosed circular.

Hoping that we may shortly have the favor of a communication from you,

Yours sincerely,

R Hodgson
