Hon. A. W. Jones.

Dear Sir;

You have evidently obtained my rejected article which I sent to the Inter-Ocean.

From a talk I had with Mr. Busby there is no intention of allowing any one to antagonize your views in that paper. Hence, my pen is at rest.

To have a gentleman for whom I have as high an opinion, as I have of you — to stand and be an unmoved spectator of injury as you are doing — is too much for me with me a pastor. You are just as certainly wrong as the evangelical preachers were in 1860-61 & 65, who kept proclaiming that Christianity & black slavery were consistent. Many of them — personal friends — had the best of characters and great intellectual attainments — but you & I know that they were mistaken. You — in my estimation — are engaged in a moral wrong just as wicked, & from you can not and I can not shun you even. You give your position a
