Hon. Albion W. Tourgee,

Mayville, N. Y.

Dear Sir:-

In reply to yours of the 17th inst., asking further information regarding the Bourdeaux steamer's would state that the service with the "Chateau Lefite" is a French [illegible] with wine [illegible], and the company state that they are free to recommend the service in every detail, as they have had no complaints from former passengers regarding it. The length of the trip to Bourdeaux will be about 15 days.

The passenger accommodation is comfortable but not grandly fitted up, as those of the large fine steamer's of the Trans-Atlantic Lines. The Chateau Lefite will be in port about the last of this month and we will look the ship over when here and see whether it seems to be such as would be acceptable to you in all particulars.

As there is only one ship in commission the sailings occur about every 40 days. Will keep your letter before us, so I shall look over the ship for you when she arrives and will then advise you regarding it, and also the exact date of her next sailing and probable date of her sailing after that again.

Yours very truly,

Edwin H. Low
