Mr Harman Bance. Onondaga.
Westmoreland. 24 May 1897.

So we are not to have the pleasure of welcoming you to England, France last first, dear, beautiful France and you will learn to love her before you give England a chance.
Well, I cannot but rejoice that you are coming so near and to such a beautiful city. Do let me hear when you think of coming and whether you will come to visit our country first which I shall hope may be the case until we hear to the contrary. The little slip was in to-day's paper, I have looked daily since last year wrote and at last there.

Yours very sincerely
Constance Shepherd.
