My dear Sadie:

I've learned from Mrs Decker's papers the sad news of your father's death. altho you had written me of his serious illness and his enfeebled condition it was a shock to learn that the end had come. for I felt that he would survive through the summer.

The loss of my dear Mother is so recent that my heart goes out in keen tender sympathy to those who sorrow and especially to those who are friends of many years. Ever while nothing can take away our Savior I know the love and sympathy of friends will help to us. I look back to the time when I first knew you - your father was in the prime of life - of vigor and of influence. Since I have many pleasant recollections of him - your father accomplished much for Mankind and you are blessed in his memory - I trust that you and your mother are not ill after all the watching and anxiety - I have been afraid your mother would give out.

Take good care of her. Life is so lonely

Without a Mother.

I am wondering if you will still remain Abroad - When you are able I would like to hear all about your father's sickness and how you and your mother are.
Please accept for her as well as yourself my sincerest sympathy.
With love and the best hope
I might help you.

Sincerely your friend
Florence A. Parsons
