Dear Mrs. Sawyer

Having just learned of your sad bereavement I hasten to extend to you my sincerest sympathies if Mr. MacMahon were with me I know he would most heartily join with me in this.

Knowing how worse than useless words are on an occasion such as this I find I refrain from further writing. Only this that we do hope if you go to America you will inform us of your arrival.

With kindest regards and best wishes

Very sincerely yours
Anna V. MacMahon
