Buffalo, Nov. 18, 95.

My dear Mrs Tourgee—

In writing newspaper accounts of the funeral exercises in memory of your illustrious dead, I have also made mention of your desire to re-issue "The Fool's Errand" etc, and that when you did so, that wd be time for a further proof of our appreciation.

I write now to say that if there should come any suggestions or offers from others of the race along this line, I would be gratified for more reasons than one, if you wd give me the first refusal of any plans of yours. I can help you get the forces from my side and while I know you have promised to communicate with me when you come to Chicago, I write this letter lest some offer be made you in the meantime.

Cordially Yours
F. L. Barnett.
