This Hill was originally the property of Isaiah Tower of New Bedford, Mass. who gave his personal order for the book to the Publishing Company or Society of London England in the year 1793.

At his death it was inherited by his son, Elihu Tower, an early pioneer of Chautauque County, who came from New Bedford, Mass. in the year 1811 and purchased and cleared the land on the farm located on "Tower Hill" in the township of Ellery, Chautauque County, New York.
He lived there until his death in the year 1865.

It then became the property of his daughter,
Emily Minerva Tower-Denison who was the wife of S.
Franklin Denison and it is presented to the Chautauque
County Historical Society by their son, Charles E.
Denison, Jamestown, New York.
